

WASHINGTON — Practically all the President's close advisers are strongly urging him to boost the new $1,000,000,000 regular relief budget, which he recommended to Congress, to at least $1,500,000,000 or still better $2,000,000,000.

Miracle of miracles, even Secretary Morgenthau is now veering to the spending point of view.

Until recently Morgenthau was dead against loosening the public purse strings. Hopefully and persistently, he still clung to his grand passion of balancing the budget. But pessimistic business reports from private agents have convinced him that this is a vain hope this year, that the country is urgently in need of another shot in the arm from government spending.

Also playing an important role in Young Henry's change of mind is the sinister European situation. He is profoundly alarmed at what is happening there, and fears that prolongation of the recession in this country would have grave economic repercussions abroad which might be the final factor precipitating war.

So in the last few weeks Henry has changed his tune. Though now leaning toward increased expenditures, he doesn't go as far as most of the other presidential advisers, who want Roosevelt to untie the money bags and unleash a big spending program.

Inner Struggle
Federal Reserve Board Chairman Marriner S. Eccles, for example, has been trying for months to sell Roosevelt on a $3,000,000,000 spending plan.

Siding with him are Bill Douglas, chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins, Secretary Ickes, Senator Bob La Follette and other militant inner circle counselors.

They present two arguments: First, that even if there is a slight business pickup this spring, as now seems likely, there is nothing in the cards to indicate that the upturn will be more than temporary.

IMMEDIATE TVA INVESTIGATION NORRIS' DESIRE

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) insisted today on immediate approval of a Senate investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority, but both administration leaders and TVA critics opposed his procedure.

Democratic Leader Barkley declared the inquiry should be conducted jointly by the House and Senate.

Sensors King (D-Utah) and Bridges (R-NH), outspoken critics of the TVA, wanted to write into the resolution a long list of specific charges against TVA administration.

Meanwhile, Bridges proposed today that the Senate sergeant-at-arms take into custody all records of the authority pending a congressional investigation of the agency.

Bridges said yesterday that since the ousting of Chairman Morgan and all TVA records were in the hands of the other directors.

The New Englander expressed fear that some effort might be made "to cover up" information prior to any congressional investigation.

The Senate audit committee approved the Norris resolution, which would provide $50,000 for expenses of the investigating committee. Its presentation to the Senate this afternoon was expected to precipitate a new round of hot debate over President Roosevelt's ouster of TVA Chairman A. E. Morgan.

Wabash River At Crest; Mt. Carmel Sections Flooded

Mount Carmel, Ill., March 24.—The Wabash river apparently had reached its crest today, leaving lowland areas and many wheat fields covered with water.

The river had stopped rising and remained at 216 feet, the same level as yesterday. The weather was clear and cool.

This was the 105th time in the past 50 years that the river had passed its flood stage of 16 feet. The present overflow inundated thousands of acres of land. On the river bottom, the fairgrounds, high school athletic field, and the residential district were covered partially with water. Fishermen's markets on the old ferry landing were flooded several days ago.

Had the water risen another foot or so, many commons and lowland dwellers would have been forced from their homes.

UNDISTRIBUTED PROFITS TAX IS SCRATCHED OUT

Flat 18 Per Cent Rate On Corporation Incomes Laid Down

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—The Senate finance committee eliminated the undistributed profits tax today from the House-approved tax revision bill and substituted a flat rate of 18 per cent on corporation incomes.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the committee said treasury estimates showed the change would provide almost $100,000,000 more revenue than the House bill.

The committee vote to strike out the controversial undistributed profits tax was 17 to 4, with Senators Barkley (D-Ky), Connally (D-Tex), Bulkeley (D-Ohio) and La Follette (D-Wis) voting in opposition.

Harrison and all the remainder of the committee lined up in favor of repeal.

Under the Senate-approved plan, the House provision for a four per cent undistributed profits levy on corporations with annual net incomes of more than $25,000 would be eliminated and a flat 18 per cent rate on corporation income substituted.

The House provided a sliding scale of rates from 16 to 20 per cent, the applicable rate depending upon the amount of corporation income distributed to stockholders.

Four Per Cent Margin
There thus was a 4 per cent margin which would tend to force distribution of corporate income.

Harrison and other Senate committee members have contended that a flat corporation rate would stimulate business by providing tax certainty.

As in the House measure, the proposal approved by the Senate committee provides a special treatment for corporations with a net income of less than $25,000.

Earlier the finance committee decided against including processing taxes and war profits legislation in the revenue measure.

Members said the processing tax decision was reached in an effort to speed action on the $5,330,000,000 revenue measure.

Senator Pope (D-Idaho) an author of the recently-enacted farm program, had suggested "tariff equalizing" levies on the processing of various commodities to raise $212,000,000 of revenue for additional farm benefits.

The proposed taxes would apply on cotton, field corn, wheat, tobacco and rice.

To Fight on Floor
Pope said he would carry his fight for them to the Senate floor.

Later the committee decided against including war profits legislation in the revenue measure.

Such legislation had been proposed by Senator Connally (D-Tex), a member of the finance committee, as a rider to the bill.

Administration insistence on retaining in the bill the principle of taxing undistributed profits drew criticism from Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) who said the administration exhibited a greater "passion for saving its face" than for helping business.

He predicted that a powerful bipartisan Senate bloc would throw its support to any committee recommendation for killing the levy, which the House voted to modify.

Although members have predicted

His Last Nickel

Philadelphia, March 24.—(AP)—Locked in a cigar store telephone booth while phoning his girl, Frank Renzi, 29, gambled his last nickel in a bid for freedom. He called a police operator.

For two hours, while a patrolman hunted the proprietor, Renzi explained through a glass door to a crowd of 100 how he came to be on the inside looking out.

Freed at last, he exclaimed: "My date! If I had had another nickel I could have called and broken it. But what am I going to tell her now?"

United States Decides to Invoke Escalator Clause of Naval Treaty

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—The United States has decided to invoke the escalator clause of the London Naval Treaty and build battleships larger than 35,000 tons, state department officials said today.

Secretary of State Hull said at his press conference that recommendations to this effect were being received from diplomatic and naval representatives of the United States, Great Britain and France, who have been consulting in London for nearly a month.

They have decided upon the necessity for invoking the escalator clause, officials said, and a formal notice of intention to invoke the

Vain Excuses

Chicago, March 24.—(AP)—Policeman John Leidinger told the Civil Service Commission yesterday he refused to let Capt. Joseph Goldberg smell his breath because—"I had eaten onions. Then I ate hamburger with onions. Then I had a bottle of beer. Then I had a bowl of chili, with garlic. Then I chewed tobacco."

"And," he added, "I wouldn't let anybody smell a breath like that."

The commission, nevertheless, ordered him discharged. Leidinger was suspended March 1 after he seized two newspaper boys who, he said, cried too loudly the headlines about the suspension of two detectives. The officers were accused of releasing two robbers.

Two Youths Held For Blackmail In Peter Levine Case

New Rochelle, N. Y., March 24.—(AP)—Werner Luck, 23, and Edward Penn, 18, were held for the Westchester county grand jury on charges of blackmail and attempted extortion in the Peter Levine kidnapping case.

Both waived examination and were held without bail.

At the same time Police Lieutenant George Reibenberger charged that Luck, who is married and has an infant child, had planned to kidnap an unnamed Pelham boy before the Levine abduction offered a chance to fake ransom notes on the chance of collecting money.

Both Luck and Penn have denied any actual knowledge of the Levine kidnapping. The 12-year-old boy, son of Murray Levine, a New York attorney, vanished a month ago.

Luck and Penn, police charged, tried to collect $30,000 from Levine on March 5 without having any knowledge of the missing boy's whereabouts.

Publisher Defends Action of Rumely

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—Chairman Minton (D-Ind) indicated today the senate lobby committee would not attempt to cite Dr. Edward A. Rumely for contempt of the senate for his refusal to produce records at a committee hearing.

Minton said there was one other possible course of action against Rumely, executive secretary of the committee to uphold Constitutional government. The case, he said, could be referred to the federal district attorney for investigation.

Rumely declined yesterday for the second time to permit committee scrutiny of records of his organization, which has actively urged defeat of the pending government reorganization bill.

Defending Rumely's action, Frank E. Gannett, Rochester, N. Y., publisher and sponsor of the organization, asserted in a radio speech last night that the senate should prosecute its lobby committee for "conspiracy to violate the constitutional rights of American citizens."

Young Love Affair Ends in Shooting

New York, March 24.—(AP)—A juvenile love affair that went awry ended in the fatal shooting of an 18-year-old stenographer today and the technical arrest of a retired army officer's 16 year old son.

The victim, Charlotte Matthieson, was found dead in the suburban Jackson Heights, apartment of Donald E. Carroll, Sr., a certified public accountant since his retirement from the army several years ago.

District Attorney Charles P. Sullivan of Queens ordered Carroll's son, Donald, Jr., a freshman at New York university, taken to a police station for questioning.

Police said it was young Carroll who called them to the apartment shortly after noon, saying: "Send some one. Help is needed."

COMMITTEE TO PLAN FINANCIAL AID TO INDUSTRY

Roosevelt Asks High Federal Officials To Form Program

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today President Roosevelt had asked a committee of high federal officials to prepare a program of financial aid to business.

The treasury head, who is chairman of the committee, said the group would "go over various suggestions for loans to industry, including small business, and try to put something together that is constructive."

He added he felt there was a real need for expanded financing, particularly of small business, but said he did not know whether the government could do anything about it.

One of the first things the committee will study, he said, is the ability of private institutions to furnish such financing.

With Morgenthau on the committee were James Roosevelt, son and secretary to the President; Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the reconstruction finance corporation, Vice-Chairman Ronald Ransom of the federal reserve board, and William O. Douglas, chairman of the securities commission.

Preliminary Session Held
The committee held a preliminary session yesterday and will meet from time to time, Morgenthau said.

The president turned over to the group hundreds of letters and other proposals for aiding business and asked the group to sift them in search for some constructive action. Morgenthau indicated the study would continue indefinitely.

The secretary said the study really dated back to the February conference of small businessmen here. Easier and more generous financing was one of the principal demands of that group.

Primarily as a result of that conference, President Roosevelt directed the RFC to resume industrial lending. Chairman Jones invited businessmen to submit loan applications and requested the banks to join the RFC in making as many loans as possible.

However, most of the small businessmen asserted the RFC, like the banks, was too conservative in making loans and that some more liberal method of financing should be devised. Many of them favored the plan proposed to Congress by Senator Pepper (D-Fla) for setting up a new federal financing agency to insure business loans.

Case of Wisconsin Boys Goes to Jury

Prairie Du Chien, Wis., March 24.—(AP)—The case of Harold Best, 15, charged with delinquency after the slaying of his 11-year-old sister, Mildred, was given to the jury of three women and nine men today.

The boy burst into tears as his lawyer, Carl Hill, concluded his final argument with a plea that he be freed and with a statement that the slaying had been "placed on an innocent head."

Hill declared the shooting of Mildred as she lay in bed last June 4 "is still unsolved," charged the state was "stacking the cards" against Harold and asserted, "we have an unsolved crime here because death closed the mouth of Ora Shaw," the children's uncle, with whom they lived on a farm near Soldiers' Grove.

The jury will decide whether Harold is a delinquent child, and in so doing, Circuit Judge S. E. Smalley told newspapermen, will give his verdict as to whether Harold killed his sister. A juvenile may not be charged with a crime under Wisconsin law.

Jealousy Is Motive in Slaying of 17-Year-Old Boarder in Spooner, Wis.

Woman Names Lipsie Lake Man As The Slayer

Spooner, Wis., March 24.—(AP)—Sheriff Robert H. Willis announced today Mrs. Phoebe Whaley had named a Lipsie Lake man as the slayer of her 17-year-old boarder Raymond Washkuhn. Jealousy was the motive, Willis said.

The sheriff said a murder warrant naming the man would be issued today.

The man was arrested at his log cabin in the woods surrounding the lake yesterday afternoon and taken to the county jail at Shell Lake. His guard at the jail said that several hours after he was brought in the man admitted shooting Washkuhn, a high school senior with a .22 calibre rifle Monday night.

The sheriff said the man had been friendly with Mrs. Whaley and visited her home early Monday evening. About 9 o'clock, two shots were fired into Mrs. Whaley's home, one striking a post of her bed.

Theory of Slaying
Washkuhn left the Whaley house to investigate and apparently was shot from ambush, the sheriff said.

Brought back into the house, Washkuhn was urged to name a 17-year-old Spooner youth as his assailant, Willis said he was informed. Washkuhn accused the boy shortly before he died at a Rice Lake hospital.

While doctors were attending Washkuhn at the Whaley home and the police were investigating, the Lipsie Lake man was hiding under a bed in Mrs. Whaley's house, the sheriff added.

The 17-year-old boy was arrested but was released after proving an alibi.

The sheriff expressed the opinion an "extortion" note found in Washkuhn's pocket was placed there to mislead authorities.

Amboy Man Struck by Auto this Noon

Andrew Dukes, residing on route 3, Amboy, was taken to the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital at noon today, suffering from injuries sustained when he was struck by an automobile on U. S. route 52, just north of the Northwestern viaduct, south of the Dixon city limits. Eldon Davis of Mendota, route 3, and his mother, were driving south on the highway, when Duke was said to have stepped directly in the pathway of the car.

Two trucks were reported to have been stopped on the highway at the point of the accident while the drivers were visiting, and the Mendota car proceeded through the open traffic lane when Duke stepped in front of the car. He was said to have been knocked down and sustained bruises and cuts. Mr. Davis placed the injured man in his car and rushed him to the office of a local physician, where he was given attention and then removed to the hospital to be held for further observation. Mr. Davis then went to the police station where he filed a report of the accident with Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber.

Many to Attend GOP Women's Luncheon

A meeting of the Illinois Republican Women's organization of the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth congressional districts is to be held in Dixon Friday and reservations for the luncheon today indicated an attendance of about 100 women. The luncheon will be enjoyed at noon Friday at the Hotel Nachusa, to be followed by a program of interesting talks.

Dixon of the Women's Voters' League, and Miss Ruth Leydig, local attorney, who is actively affiliated with the county young women's organization, will also address the gathering.

George Berkheimer, a farm hand living west of Steward in Alto township, was sent to the county jail to serve a 30-day jail sentence today, when he pleaded guilty to the theft of seven hens from his employer, Mandell Kersten, last Monday during the absence of the family from their home. Berkheimer, who is 33 years of age and came to Lee county from near Monroe Center in Winnebago county with his family a few weeks ago, was brought to Dixon this morning by Deputy Sheriff Stoddard Danekas, who with Deputy Gilbert Finch conducted an investigation of the reported poultry theft yesterday afternoon.

Berkheimer, who had been employed by Kersten in the county court this morning, admitted having taken the hens. He borrowed a coop to transport the chickens to his home, and then destroyed the crate, the wreckage of which the investigating officers found in the cellar at the Berkheimer home. Berkheimer wept as sentence was pronounced by Judge Grover Gehant on recommendation of State Attorney Edward Jones and Kersten.

The former Trenton attorney charged Hoffman "directed and controlled" the crimes committed against him.

Others named defendants were Mrs. Anna Bading, secretary to Miss Jacobs was riding a motorcycle west on First street, when the wheels are alleged to have skidded in loose gravel which, it is claimed, was scattered over the cement paving. The amount of damages which will be sought in the action has not been decided upon. Attorney Peterman stated, when interviewed by a Telegraph representative today.

CHAMBERLAIN WON'T PROMISE AID TO CZECHS

Accused Of Yielding To Imperious Voice Of Force

London, March 24.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain today refused to give Czechoslovakia "a priori guarantee" of immediate armed help against German aggression but he warned Adolf Hitler that a middle European war would drag in other powers.

"Where peace and war are concerned," he told a packed, intent House of Commons, "legal obligations are not alone involved, and if war broke out it would be unlikely to be confined to those who have assumed such obligations."

"It would be impossible to say where it would end and what governments might become involved. This is especially true of two countries like Britain and France x x x devoted to the same ideals of democratic liberty and determined to uphold them."

Chamberlain spoke 57 minutes in presenting his anxiously awaited declaration, the most important delivered by a British prime minister since the World War.

Reassures France, Belgium
He promised Britain would send the new armistice she was forging into battle to uphold the treaties she already has, notably those for aid to France and Belgium, and to protect her vital interests.

He urged solution of the problems between Hitler's expanded Germany and Czechoslovakia. He insisted there still were prospects for success in his bargaining with Italy's Premier Mussolini.

But he said Britain must strive for peace, "because we know that in war there are no winners."

Voicing the views of the labor party and others in the opposition that Britain should take a firmer line against Europe's dictators Clement R. Attlee, opposition leader, followed Chamberlain.

"Chamberlain has yielded to force," he declared. "He has left us and the world in the 1914 situation."

"There is nothing so dangerous as a policy of weakness, drift and uncertainty."

"The prime minister does not seem to realize the full gravity of the situation and the need for positive, not negative action."

Attlee said he was shocked by Chamberlain's "amazing credulity" in accepting Italy's promises.

Jail Quarantined

Aurora, Ill.—(AP)—The DuPage county jail was under scarlet fever quarantine today.

A prisoner who contracted the disease yesterday was taken to a hospital. Health officials tacked up a quarantine sign over the jail's portals, and Sheriff Arthur Bennett and 14 inmates were resigned to a life of enforced restraint for at least 10 days.

Last week the Kendall county jail at Yorkville was quarantined when three children of Sheriff William Maier contracted scarlet fever.

SENATE OKAYS ELIMINATION OF COMPTROLLER

Affords Too Many Dictatorial Powers Is Complaint

Washington, March 24.—(AP)—The Senate tentatively approved today abolition of the office of comptroller general. It rejected, 47 to 36, a proposal by Senator Byrd (D-Va) to preserve the office intact.

Byrd had sought to knockout the administration's pending reorganization bill a provision to eliminate the comptroller and divide his duties between the director of the budget and a new officer, the auditor general.

Supporters of the bill predicted that defeat of the Byrd amendment presaged final passage of the measure in practically its original form.

Arguing in behalf of the measure, Senator Schwellenbach (D-Wash) charged the comptroller general exercises "the most dictatorial powers ever given a federal official."

The senate's preoccupation with reorganization apparently tied up, for the time being, all efforts to immediately authorize an investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

On the House side a similar delay was in prospect. Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) announced the rules committee would begin open hearings Monday on various investigation proposals.

Wants Senate Probe Only

Chief among them was one by Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) for an independent Senate investigation. Norris made two attempts to get his resolution up for consideration today but was blocked by Minority Leader McNary of Oregon, who insisted that the Senate dispose of the reorganization bill before beginning argument on a TVA inquiry.

The House itself took up the $447,808,555 war department appropriation bill, hearing it described by Chairman Snyder (D-Pa) of the appropriations subcommittee which prepared it as verging on the inadequate "in the light of present world conditions."

The House-approved tax revision bill lost its undistributed profits tax provision entirely at the hands of the Senate finance committee which substituted instead a flat 18 per cent corporation income tax.

In the Senate reorganization fight, supporters of the present system, who termed the comptroller general a "watchdog" for Congress, conceded they had little chance of victory.

Meanwhile the railroad labor executives association voted unanimously to oppose the reorganization bill and decided to urge that the measure be sent back to committee.

Similar action was taken by officials of the national co-operative milk producers' federation.

Unions Interested

George M. Harrison, chairman of the railway labor group, said his unions were "vitaly interested" in how the reorganization bill would affect the national (railroad) mediation board, the railroad retirement board and the railroad adjustment board. So far, he said, they had been unable to find out.

DEATH BEGINS AT FORTY

Picked at random from a pamphlet entitled, Death Begins at Forty, directed to drivers of automobiles, or everybody, are the following:

At 25 miles an hour, a moving car has developed about enough energy to roll over once. Your body probably could take this. At 50 it has developed over twice, but four times the energy—enough to roll over four times. At 75 it has developed not three times, but nine times the energy, enough to roll over nine times.

In fifteen years of war in which the United States has been engaged, there were 244,357 casualties. In fifteen years of peace, from 1923 to 1937, there were 441,912 casualties. In war, our soldiers fought for a purpose, but what purpose can there be in killing of these hundreds of thousands on the highways?

At 25 miles an hour, you can make a fairly sharp turn. At 50 you can make only one-fourth the turn you could make at 25. At 75 your "turnability" has been cut to one-ninth that when you were going at 25.

Analysis of 46,300 fatal accidents disclosed that 93 percent of the automobiles apparently were in good condition. In only 1.9 percent of the cases were the brakes defective. Indications are that the driver failed where the mechanics were good.

"There remains one tragicomic vestige of the gilded 'twenties.' He is the speed cowboy. An unwanted relic of a bygone era, he whizzes blithely on, oblivious to the fact that he is as out of place as a Keystone comedy in Radio Music hall. Just a Model T intellect in a streamlined roadster. Some day he may be caught unawares and be put in a museum, where he belongs, along with the extinct dinosaur and the dodo."

"In safety the world is with you. In carelessness you are all alone."

In 45,900 fatal accidents, drivers of 30 percent of the vehicles were from 18 to 24 years of age.

If an accident occurs while you are driving under 40 miles an hour, there is only one chance in 44 that some one will be killed. If an accident occurs while your car is traveling more than 40 miles an hour, there is one chance in 19 that some one will be killed.

DUCKS VS. AIRPLANES

There is something rather appealing about the statement by Warren E. Emley of the U. S. Bureau of Standards that one of the things worrying the bureau is the fact that ducks refuse to be intimidated by airplanes and thus create a major problem for aviation.

It seems that the ducks, which after all have been traveling through the air a good bit longer than the man-made planes, show little regard for air traffic regulations and continue serenely on their way—even if they fly right through a plane's windshield. The result is bad not only for the duck but also for the plane and its pilot.

The worst offenders among the ducks are Canadian honkers. These birds weigh around eight pounds and it is an unlucky airplane that meets up with one. They fly along honking all the while and expect everything else to get out of their way.

Probably think they're in an automobile or something.

GOVERNOR HORNER ON THE ISSUES

In his recent broadcast, copies of which have been placed in newspaper offices, Governor Horner stated the issues of the democratic primary campaign. He also took note of the flattering references to him by candidates on the slate he is fighting against. Candidates go about riding on the Roosevelt coattails and undertake to appear regular by telling what a fine governor Mr. Horner has been. They have to make up the best story they can, because asking the party to give Chicago both United States senators from Illinois is something of a handicap.

Governor Horner's acceptance of the compliment paid by his opponents is of interest as a political document. He said:

"While I ought to appreciate those of his words that are complimentary yet, I'll tell you in the greatest confidence that I am not and never claimed to be the best governor Illinois ever had. We have had some mighty fine governors, and great men, too. True, I have endeavored earnestly to be a devoted and unselfish and tireless governor in the service of the people of Illinois, and I hope it can be said that we have made great progress and that we have greatly aided and encouraged the people of the state by conducting a forward stepping government. But, I'm not going to be lulled into pleasant dreams by compliments or side-tracked by silly criticism, in my modest efforts to aid in nominating a winning democratic ticket."

After disposing of the flattery of the men he is fighting, he disclosed what he accepts as the issue of the primary campaign:

"I have no desire to offer any personal criticism of any candidate on the opposition's ticket. I never have resorted to that in my long public career. Nor have I any desire to embarrass them in any way. But, I warn them that the democrats of Illinois will want to know where they stand on every phase of this campaign—the people have that right. And some of the questions the voters will want answered by the opposition ticket and each of its candidates, are: Do you offer yourselves as candidates upon the Kelly-Nash platform? Do you sponsor the Kelly-Nash platform? Do you, as does every one of the candidates on the Lucas-Lewis ticket, repudiate the purposes and methods of the Kelly-Nash machine?

The Boxwood Barrier

By BLANCHE SMITH FERGUSON

The Story So Far:

Reuben Oliver, self-made millionaire, attempts to jump his horse over the sacred boxwood hedge surrounding Goodloe's Choice in the Maryland hunting district. He is thrown and injured, thus delaying the proposal Judith Goodloe has been expecting from dashing Gary Brent. Fiercely resenting his presence, Judith comes from the sickroom to find Reuben's friend, red-headed Cissy Rogers, captivated Gary.

Chapter Nine

Empty Moonlight
"It's funny to hear Reuben rant about this valley being God's country," Cissy went on blithely.

"You're going to find plenty of amusement during your visit," Judith told her. "Most of us think that way."

"You would be born here and never getting farther away than a horse can take you."

"Help!" from Gary.
"Gary is always jaunty," Judith enlightened her, "and, coming back loyal."

"Loyalty is fine if it doesn't stunt—Goodness, I sound like a tract or something! I get that way sometimes," Cissy said with a guilelessness that charmed Gary.

"We must appear funny—set in a rut—to a cosmopolitan of the air, eh, Judy?"

"Another thing I've never thought about," Judith's complete indifference riled Cissy all over again.

"That's what makes you so funny," she exploded. "You're all so self-satisfied. So contented with your little world that you don't even bother to look over the rim."

"Perhaps it's just as well."

"As well for you, maybe, but not for Reuben," insisted Cissy. "He's always been like an eagle, swooping higher, circling wider. She got quickly to her feet. Even on still heels she was ridiculously small.

"I'm really going now."

Judith hoped she did not show her relief. "How did you come?"

"One of Reuben's cars. It's parked somewhere behind your shrubbery. I made the turnings at random. Hope I'll find my way back."

"There's a huge red oak at the cross roads."

"Please pray that I spot it. I'm good in the clouds, but trees queer me."

Judith thought: "She's so keen she could spot a huckleberry bush in a thicket at midnight!" She said: "The oak is hard to miss. It almost blocks the road."

"Let's ride that far with Miss Rogers, Judith," Gary suggested, exactly as Cissy hoped he would.

Resentful because he voluntarily postponed their golden hour one second longer, Judith said: "You go, Gary. I'll see you in the morning, Miss Rogers."

"Thank you," Cissy said sweetly.

"Goodnight."

Walking through the purpling darkness with Gary, Cissy thought: "I needn't worry about Reuben—that high-hat loves this man. He's pretty," contemptuously. "I can send him back—but I won't. I'll take him along. Let her have a taste of the bitter. She's had too much sweet."

Her spike heels sunk into the soft earth. She stumbled slightly. Gary put out a rescuing hand. He called over his shoulder: "Back in a few minutes, Judy. Mean of you to desert me!"

"Afraid of me or the dark?" Cissy teased.

"Can't you guess?" Gary studied her face from flirtatious eyes.

A late home coming robin arrived in the maple near the porch. Above his mate's shrill scolding Judith heard Gary's laughter echoing faintly—Cissy was being amusing—and—amused—

Always Waiting

Judith was waiting in the garden. She had been waiting an hour. With hands placidly folded in her yellow organdy lap and her heart in a tumult, she waited for Gary.

"If I have any pride I won't let him find me here. If I have the least bit of pride I'll go inside, read—turn on the radio—play the piano—go to bed—"

But she sat and waited. The garden was almost too exquisite to be quite real. A young moon made silver filigree lace of the trees' leaves on the grass. Lilies floated and billowed in the light breeze.

In the midst of such serenity it was wicked to feel so restless. Judith told herself, beating a tattoo on the back of the bench upon which she sat! Gary had gone all the way to the Oliver place, Cissy Rogers would see to that, but surely she would send him back in a car—in that case he should have been here.

Through the trees she could glimpse the west-wing guest room. A dim light shone from the window. Once, a nurse in white uniform stood framed in it. Tomorrow another one would come on duty.

The doctors had agreed it would be better not to move Reuben to home or hospital. With rest and quiet in a week, perhaps—

"We can't put him out," Judith admitted grudgingly, resentful eyes upon the light, "but I wish I'd never seen him!"

In her heart she blamed Reuben not only for her delayed happiness, but for Gary's present defection. But for that man upstairs in the four poster bed she would never have met the thoroughly unpleasant girl who had dragged Gary from her. She would be engaged to Gary, not waiting for Gary.

But even while she told herself this, she knew infallibly that she would always be waiting for Gary. Social, gay Gary who, like the butterfly, took the pleasure of the moment where he found it. Not a light-o'-love—loyal at heart, meaning to come back—always coming back—always coming back, when the diverting moment had passed, filled with confidence, charm—totally unmindful of his wavering.

That would be her life—waiting for Gary. The waiting would be sweet—if he loved her. If—

Abruptly she stopped her tattoo upon the bench. Cissy's word came drifting back to her. "You're so self-satisfied—You never even bother to look over the rim—"

Was there perhaps a grain of truth in what the girl said? Judith wondered if she had taken life—all of it, too much for granted, followed too closely the pattern cut by others?

She commenced her tattoo again. She was being silly. What did this Cissy Rogers know of the finer things of life? What did she know of anything—jazzing and junketing and revelling in sensation?

But, although Judith did not realize it, Cissy had cast the first stone of doubt into the pool of her mind. It would lie buried for years, perhaps never come to the surface, but the stone had been cast.

Ten minutes ticked away—twenty, thirty—

Judith felt longing for him within her, like a tide. Somewhere was infinite beauty for everyone—a heritage waiting to be claimed. She felt it in the deepest recesses of her being. Why then all this fumbling uncertainty?

Tormenting Memory
Someone was coming along the path between flowers opening honey-scented hearts to the night.

"Gary?"

It was the lank colored boy, Ben. "Mr. Gary on de phone, Miss Judy."

She went swiftly between dew kissed sweet alyssum, up the steps and into the lighted hall.

"Yes, Gary?" she spoke quickly into the telephone.

"Judy—I'm at Oliver's place. He's asked awkward to leave."

"Why?" unsteadily.

"Hostless party, you know. Cissy asked me to get things going."

"I see." Cissy—Somewhere in Judith a light went out.

"She wants you to come over, Judy. I'll start right now, be there in 10 minutes."

"Please—don't, Gary." Pride said the words for her.

"Why?"

"I'm—dead tired."

"Nonsense! They're dancing. Swell orchestra out from town. Jolly folks. Come on—please—please!"

Her heart went all soft and warm. When Gary said please—

His next words stiffened her back bone. "I promised Cissy I'd get you. She bet you wouldn't come."

"She wins!" Judith managed to say it blithely. "Sorry, old sweet!"

"You're missing a grand time." Gary was enjoying himself. Gary, who a few hours ago couldn't wait to see Judith!

"Thank you, hostess for me, Gary."

"All right—if you won't come, see you in the morning, Judy."

She gripped the telephone with fingers gone a little cold. He wasn't going to leave the party. Wasn't coming through the moonlight to her. He was going to stay with the swell orchestra—and—Cissy.

She went slowly up the wide stairs. Her yellow frock billowed about her yellow satin shod feet. Gary had come home—she hadn't dreamed it—he had kissed her. That kiss still lingered tormentingly upon her lips. Gary had come—and gone. She was waiting—again.

She wondered if, when she was old and gray, she would still be waiting for Gary?

Reuben, lying high in the four-poster, with its snowy canopy and valance, ran nervous fingers through the patch of light brown

Outstanding News of Dixon and Vicinity in the Past

50 YEARS AGO
George L. Schuler talks much about advancing in years; "the seer and yellow leaf" and all that, but we believe he is joking after all. He went hunting the other day and at one shot killed 17 mallard ducks. However, Mr. Schuler never did things by halves.

George Deck, hack driver for the Waverly House, has made complaint to Judge Wood that William Horn, a runner for the same house, has threatened to shoot and kill him and he desires that William's ambitions in that direction shall be curbed by the court.

25 YEARS AGO
The city council is considering a plan to use Market Square for a public park and to make annual appropriations for its maintenance.

Grover W. Gehant, a young Dixon attorney of proven ability, has announced himself as a candidate for justice of the peace.

The ordinance proposed by Dr. hair that escaped the bandage and wondered why he had scoffingly declared there was no such thing as Fate?

"What else could have brought me to this?" he asked of a lovely, smiling lady who hung on the wall coquetting ceaselessly over her fan. "What else?" A far cry from the lumber camp; from the bunk on the floor of cookie's shack!

The pink and lavender sweet peas on the wall paper and the china dogs on the mantel were not one whit more unreal than that he should be lying between jasmine scented sheets at Goodloe's Choice, listening avidly for one footfall—Judith's.

TWO $10,000 SUITS

Chicago—(AP)—The Trust company of Chicago, as trustee of the estates of Anthony Marzano, 20, and Mildred Cooper, 18, filed two suits in the superior court yesterday as the outgrowth of a bus accident in which 19 persons were killed near Salem, Ill., a year ago today. Each suit asked $10,000 damages.

The Transcontinental Roller Derby, Inc., owner of the bus in which a number of young persons were enroute to Cincinnati from St. Louis, was named defendant in both suits.

Handicraft Exhibit Is Highly Successful

The exhibit of hand made rugs, quilts and other fancywork, held in G. A. R. hall Monday afternoon, under the auspices of the Past Presidents' Parley and assisted by several members of the American Legion Auxiliary, was well attended.

One table of articles, consisting of baskets, trays, book-ends from the Veterans Craft Shop of Chicago, created a great deal of interest, and a nice sum of money was realized from the sale of these articles; the entire proceeds being returned to the veterans who made them. The unsold articles will be on sale in Legion hall Saturday night.

The table of delicious homemade candy, presided over by Louise Enichen and Ora Lenox, was also a center of attraction.

Another table showed a splendid exhibit of rugs, toys, pillows, baskets and other fancy work from the girls' O. T. department of the Dixon State hospital. Mrs. Oscar Johnson was present and gave a very interesting and instructive talk on this phase of work at the hospital. Mrs. Myrtle George favored with two delightful vocal selections and Miss Jean Wagner gave several selections on the accordion.

The tea table was presided over by Mrs. Marie Hettler.

The entire afternoon proved very enjoyable to all present, and Mrs. Clara Traynor, chairman of Past Presidents' Parley, takes this opportunity to thank all who loaned rugs, quilts, etc., the ladies who took part in the program, and all who assisted in any way to make the afternoon so enjoyable.

Scribes Relate Activities of Local Organization

Twenty-five Junior, Senior girls were present at a regular meeting of this troop, held at Kathryn Beard's dress shop, which proved to be one of the most interesting and instructive meetings of this year.

The object of the meeting was to have Mrs. Beard, who is somewhat of an authority on clothes, explain what colors, style and so forth, each girl should wear.

One of the most important points stressed was, posture. The girls were told that no matter how well your clothes are styled, etc., with bad posture you cannot gain a good effect.

Miss Beard placed the girls in certain type groups, such as athletic, average, tailored, and then gave the styles for each.

We are very grateful to Mrs. Beard for giving her time and valuable instructions to our troop.

A very enjoyable meeting of Troop X, was held at the home of Elizabeth Ann Warner. At this occasion dinner was served, by those girls completing the requirements for their Hostess badge.

We wish to express our appreciation to Mrs. Warner, and Elizabeth Ann, and to Mrs. Edwards, for a most interesting evening, we were only too sorry to have to leave.

Plans Being Made For Music Festival

Anyone desiring to sing in the Community Music Festival choir sponsored by the Dixon Woman's club on May 20, may call K985 for information. It is not necessary to be a member of any choir or choral organization to sing in this cantata. Some will not be able to give much time to practice until the Easter church program is well under way.

Thus far more than 90 persons have indicated a desire to sing in this festival. From all indications the program will be most enjoyable to those taking part as well as to those listening.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste. Frequent or watery passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

DECLARE DRUGS NO VALUE ONCE T B ENTERS BODY

Doctors Must Depend On Body's Defense Mechanism

There is no drug that is of value in destroying tuberculosis germs once they have entered the body, says Dr. J. A. Myers, president, National Tuberculosis Association, in a recent report to the Illinois Tuberculosis association.

Dr. Myers said that in the absence of drugs the physician is forced to depend on the defense mechanism of the human body and lend it whatever aid is possible. This mechanism is able to wall off the germs of primary tuberculosis in the bodies of nearly all persons.

The body is not able to destroy the germs, it is said. Thus in the bodies of large numbers of persons who have become infected, the living tubercle bacilli (the germs of tuberculosis), while walled off, holds a threat over the subsequent health of the individual. After months, years or decades, the walls which imprison tuberculosis germs may give way, thus liberating them.

The defense mechanism is then often unable to control this infection. It often needs aid. Bed rest and mechanical rest of the lung by surgery are the aids instituted by the physician.

Despite the handicap of the lack of specific drugs in the control of tuberculosis, Dr. Myers says that present day methods are adequate.

They consist of finding and making adequate periodic examinations to detect any active disease that may develop before it causes illness or has become communicable. The X-ray is used in this examination.

Isolation of those having active tuberculosis in sanatoria, adequate treatment, and education complete the present day machinery that must take the place of specific drugs in the control of tuberculosis.

ONE CANDIDATE IS ASSURED VICTORY IN THE PRIMARY

Wiley B. Garvin Has No Opposition For Nomination

Chicago, March 24—(AP)—In the Illinois primary next month only one man is certain of nomination for a state office, even before the votes are counted. He is Wiley B. Garvin of Mascoutah, who has no opposition for the Republican nomination for state superintendent of public instruction.

On the Democratic side, John A. Wieland of Calumet City, the incumbent, has two opponents.

As in the other state contests where the Horner and Kelly-Nash factions have full tickets, the Democratic race apparently is a two-sided fight between Wieland, whose backing includes the Chicago organization, and Frank A. Jensen of Peru, the Horner administration entry.

A proposal to create a state school board, which Governor Horner favors and which Superintendent Wieland opposed when it was before the legislature last year, has been made an issue in the campaign.

Wieland contended control of the state school system should not be centralized in an appointive board, which he says would be under the control of the appointive officer. Also he opposed forced consolidation of school districts, one feature of the plan before the general assembly.

Frank A. Jensen, who is superintendent of the LaSalle-Peru township high school and junior college, has favored a system of uniform school administration. Without mentioning the school board plan specifically, he said in one campaign address: "It is not my intention to take away control and management of the schools from local communities. However, it is the duty and the obligation of the state superintendent of public instruction to offer a plan to make our school system as nearly uniform as possible in opportunities for all students."

John A. Wieland, Superintendent Wieland is completing his first four year term. He holds bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Illinois and before becoming state superintendent was superintendent of schools in Bradley and Calumet City.

Jensen is making his first major political campaign. He received his bachelor's degree from Michigan State Normal, his master's from Columbia university and the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Michigan. For 12 years he was superintendent of schools in Rockford before going, in 1935, to his present position.

Jensen is past president of the Illinois Education Association, formerly the Illinois State Teachers' association.

The other two Democratic candidates, Thomas M. Enright and Elmer H. Vogel, are Chicagoans. Neither has started a statewide campaign.

Garvin was on the faculty of McKendree college at Lebanon, teaching education, psychology and guidance after receiving a master's degree at the University of Illinois. He is superintendent of schools in Mascoutah, in St. Clair county. He is 44 and a past commander of the St. Clair-Monroe county council of the American Legion.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

WRONG IDEAS OF RELIGION
Text: Mark 7:1-13
By WM. E. Gilroy, D. D.
Editor of Advance

This lesson deals with about as large a task as could anywhere be faced—that of correcting wrong ideas of religion.

The more we study the work and teachings of Jesus, the more we must realize that this was very largely what He had to do. He pointed out again and again that He had not come to destroy but to fulfill, and that He was not so much offering a new teaching as endeavoring to bring home to men the realities of the truth concerning God and man that they had failed to put into practice in daily life and relationships.

What were the wrong ideas of religion that Jesus endeavored to correct? There was, first of all, the idea that religion consisted of outward and external things and insistence upon forms and rituals.

Even in so important a matter as cleanliness in washing the hands, Jesus intimated that one could attach much more importance to it as a matter of ritual and ceremony than as a matter of actual cleanliness. It is as important not to be censorious toward those who do not follow our particular customs and practices as it is to follow the customs and practices that we approve.

In the second place, Jesus corrected the idea that religion consists of lip praise as a form of worship. It is the religion of the heart that is the real religion. It is in the observance of the Commandments of God, not in bowing down in professed obedience, that the true worship of God is found.

In the third place, Jesus insisted upon the difference between truth and tradition. The fact that a thing had been long taught and practiced did not make it true. The truth of religion had to be tested by something higher than that.

In the fourth place, Jesus was insistent that the real requirements of religion—that is, the demands of honesty and love—could not be set aside by some formal code or practice. We have learned in our modern world how even good laws can be nullified by non-observance or non-enforcement. A few years ago, the nations joined in a pact against war yet we have seen how nations that entered into the pact can be engaged in actual war, though by avoidance of the declaration of war they profess—technically, at least—that they are not breaking the pact. Jesus found the same thing in existence in His day in relation to the demands of the Jewish religion. The finest teachings and ideals had been set aside by convenient practice that modified or ignored them.

But Jesus was not content simply to correct wrong ideas of religion. Rather, perhaps, we could say that He corrected wrong ideas of religion by asserting true ideas of religion and by making plain and simple, for will and conscience, the two great commandments concerning love to God and love toward one's neighbor.

OREGON BRIEFS

Roy Swope and son Charles of Cedar Rapids, Ia. are visitors of the former's father, Joseph Swope. Mrs. J. J. Beck passed the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Winkler in Savanna.

Frederick Clifford, Eugene Woodrick, Robert Hart, John Basler and Marlin Frihart comprised a bowling team from the Carnation Milk Products Co. who participated in a tournament in Milwaukee Saturday. Mr. Basler was accompanied by his family who visited relatives and Mr. Frihart took his two elder sons with him.

Mrs. Fred Clifford entertained at dinner Saturday evening Mrs. W. Lee Blodgett of Morrison. Mrs. William Halsey and daughter, Nancy, Rochelle, Mrs. J. D. Mead, Agnes and Rachel Beck.

Eugene Beck of Rock Island spent Sunday and Monday with his mother, Mrs. Grace Beck. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clifford entertained guests Sunday, the former's sisters and husbands, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Radke and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kapschke of Maywood.

H. H. Ragsdale was a business visitor in Chicago Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lorenson were visited Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Miller of DeKalb. Miss Bessie Beck was a week end guest at the Emmett O'Connell home in Dixon and accompanied them to Kewanee Sunday to visit relatives.

Persons came to the hospital from the civil service list. Mr. Benston stated that it was not the youth in the Bureau service that was a handicap but that there was no future for the doctor today and most of the men stayed only two years and then left to secure better opportunities on the outside.

Mrs. Florence Turnquist of Amboy was introduced as one of the few women commanders of American Legion posts and one who is making an exceptional record.

Charles Edson, of Mt. Morris, Dept. Chairman of the Hall of Fame commission, stated that it was awarded for the greatest unselfish community service and that the entry must be in by July 5, 1938. Last year the award was won by a post for flood relief.

Raymond Sire, graves registration chairman, asked posts to visit and check cemeteries for veteran graves, assist local Legion posts and for posts to send the service record with the body if a veteran was to be buried and the body shipped away. He asked the posts to assist the widow and dependents to secure the burial flag and called attention to any number of unmarked World War veterans graves and told how to secure grave markers.

Senior Vice Commander Edward Clamage said that Illinois today shows an increase of 2,000 over a corresponding day a year ago, and that the national organization showed an increase in membership of 30,000.

Carl Motts, Dundee, commander of the 11th district, stated that there were 45 posts in the district with a quota of 3,629 members and they are installing the second colored post. Lester Benston called attention to the fact that material for the next poppy sale would be received soon by the posts and to use the quotas sent and help the auxiliary units. It is hoped to sell one million two hundred thousand poppies this year.

He said that the system at veterans' hospitals was not very good, that there was too much of a turnover of doctors and that a permanent medical corps was needed and mentioned the crowded condition of the hospitals. Legislation for new beds was at a standstill and it was hoped to secure legislation permitting discharge of patients on a furlough for home treatment. This would reduce the average cost of $2.80 a day per patient to $1 to $2 a week for medicine. This would be economy and make beds available for patients in urgent need and emergency cases.

He said that the American Legion was backing two bills.

1. Public 304—Widows and orphans pension bill.

2. Universal draft bill.

He urged posts and members of the Legion to write their congressmen to support this legislation.

Chadwick post has signed its intention of forfeiting its charter and it was voted to accept their offer unless they secured the 15 members necessary to hold same.

Department Commander Leonard Appiequist stated that there were over 1780 patients at Hines hospital and a waiting list of 500 major cases considered emergencies. He stressed the inadequacy of the number of nurses, attendants and orderlies and stated that the hospital needed 50 more orderlies. He cited an order that orderlies be assigned to wash the walls of the hospital which meant the neglect of patients.

Mr. Appiequist also touched on unemployment conditions and of the unfairness of discrimination in industry of men over 40 which hit World War veterans whose average age is now 46. The speaker stated that as long as relief was inadequate and there is unemployment the American Legion would demand that these men be given employment under WPA. He stated that the Legion was for veteran preference under WPA and with the requirement that no aliens be allowed to hold a job that a veteran could hold and said that the Legion had secured the removal of the 30 day clause. The American Legion has set up a fund of $75,000 available for children of veterans where relief is inadequate in charge of Bill Hogan.

Second Division Commander Wayne Misener presented distinguished service citations—three to Lank post and one each to Byron and Polo posts.

Commander Appiequist stated that a child welfare caravan would start March 24th from Pekin and be state-wide to impress the people on the magnitude and sincerity of our program on child welfare. He mentioned that one auxiliary contributed $78 to one veteran at Elgin in insulin and through their efforts a comrade was returned to his family, cured.

Mr. Appiequist said that the Universal Service Act was a strictly war time measure to take the profit out of war. 28,000 additional millionaires were made during the World War. He said that he found in one room at the Hines hospital a boy who had a tumor removed and that his mother had to assist in his care as there was only four nurses for the entire ward. Prior to we had 31 cases of cancer, today we have 553 suffering with malignant tumors. Hines is now known as the outstanding cancer clinic in the United States. It is estimated that in the next four years the number of these patients will mount to 1,600.

The commander continued with "I urge each and every post in this day of juvenile delinquency to co-operate with the city and county authorities to prevent the spread of juvenile delinquency and the spread of the use of the drug marijuana."

Commander Appiequist will address the annual community banquet of Rochelle post No. 403 American Legion in Rochelle on Thursday evening, May 12th, at which time it is hoped to have the entire Ogle county board of supervisors attend the banquet as well as the various organizations in the community and all the citizens. Only a modest cover charge will be made and the commander is expected to eloquently unfold the entire program of the American Legion to fully inform the public of the program and ideals of the service organization.

LUCAS ATTACKED
CHICAGO BOSSES
IN DIXON SPEECHDemocratic Candidate for Senator and Companions in City Yesterday

Denouncing the Kelly-Nash "bossism" of Cook county directed against the 101 down state counties, Congressman Scott W. Lucas of Havana, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, yesterday assailed the method of procedure and told a large crowd of listeners in the Armory hall:

"Kelly and Nash, the Cook county bosses, are seeking to place a halo of bossism about the necks of the voters of the 101 counties of down state Illinois. It is these same bosses who from their luxurious pent house in Chicago two years ago, heard the down state voters vote to their, 'out-the-window' policies."

The speaker told his listeners that the candidates on the Democratic ticket at this primary election are either influenced by the bossism of Cook county or political justice for down state counties. He pledged his support of the policies of President Roosevelt and emphatically declared that he would, "vote to spend billions to prevent invasion by a foreign power on American soil, but would not vote to spend a dime to send American soldiers to foreign soil."

The well attended meeting was presided over by Attorney Sherwood Dixon, chairman of the Lee county Democratic committee. The three speakers who presented their candidates were members of the ticket which has been endorsed by Governor Henry Horner and the down state county organizations.

For Good Government
Thomas L. O'Hern of Peoria, candidate for Congressman-at-Large, was the first speaker, and pleaded for the defeat of the Kelly-Nash machine dictated ticket from Cook county. He stated that the Horner endorsed ticket was a ticket for good government.

Frank A. Jensen of LaSalle, former head of the Rockford school system, who has been heard in Dixon on several previous occasions, and candidate on the Horner endorsed ticket for the office of superintendent of public instruction, was the second speaker. Another meeting was held at Sterling earlier in the afternoon and the candidates hurried to Dixon to appear at the Lee county gathering.

Mr. Jensen stated that, "progress has been made in the schools of Illinois, but that the present procedure in education has not been interpreted properly to the patrons of the schools by the members of the teaching profession." He lauded the educational system of Illinois from the elementary and rural schools to state university, but added that an emergency exists in the educational system of the state, which needs to be remedied. The schools in the 12,000 districts of the state form the educational idealism of the districts in which they are located, he said.

PETRIFIED APPLE
Los Angeles, Calif.—(AP)—Horticulturists have sown in two a heavy object owned by Charles A. Schrader and decided it is a petrified apple. They even have identified the seeds.

The 14-ounce object was found in a shipment of Pennsylvania anthracite, looks like an apple and is pale green in color. It is believed it was carried into a coal mine by a worker and that some peculiar quality in the underground air petrified it.

35 REPORT FOR
BASEBALL DRILL
DEKALB NORMALEight Lettermen Among Those Hustling To Get Positions

With the early return of spring, baseball activities at Northern Illinois State Teachers College at DeKalb have reached a new height, as the thirty-five candidates, including eight lettermen, are hustling through their paces each day by Coach George Evans in preparation for the 1938 season and at the present especially, for the southern training trip that begins April 11.

For the second consecutive year the Profs will employ an extensive southern training trip as a means of more efficiently preparing themselves for the difficult schedule that has been arranged for them this season. The Evansmen will open the southern trip with a double header at Eastern Teachers of Charleston, Illinois, on April 11. April 12 will see the Profs at Harrogate, Tennessee, where they will meet Lincoln Memorial University of that city in a single game. Maryville College of Maryville, Tennessee, will furnish the Giants with their next competition in single games on April 13 and 14, and Hiwassee College of Madisonville, Tennessee, will meet the Evansmen in single games on April 15 and 16. The final game of this extensive trip will be played against Eastern Teachers of Richmond, Kentucky, on April 18.

Lewis, Vanderbeek Captains

The returning lettermen for the current campaign are led by Co-captains Harold Lewis of Marseilles and LeRoy Vanderbeek of DeKalb who play at shortstop and third base respectively. Lewis finished well up in the conference batting list last season and is considered one of the finest shortstops in the conference. Other returning veterans are Willard Rezek, second base, Brookfield; Lester Lundeen, pitcher, Moline; Harold Singer, south-paw hurler from Chicago; John Young, first base, Rockford; Russ Martin, utility infielder, Elburn; and Gene Bielawski, outfielder, from Chicago.

The Prof pitching staff and catching department were crippled considerably when Harold Hook and Norbert Hope, starting pitchers last year, and Jack Barber and Leo Orloff, veteran catchers, failed to report for the baseball season. Hook and Hope were unable to return to school this year; Barber was forced to drop his studies because of financial reasons, and the thought of a baseball career was too much for Orloff to resist and he left for a minor league camp. Louis DeRango, regular catcher last year, has completed his eligibility and Verne Thompson, one of the team's leading pitchers, graduated last June, along with Russell Ritzman and William Grove, regular outfielders. The pitching staff will of course be developed around the two veterans, Singer and Lundeen, who will be given support by three experienced men of last season—Marinus Jorgensen of Yorkville; Robert Smith of Eyota, Minnesota; and Robert Evans of Peoria. The catching duties will probably rest on the shoulders of Frank Stegman, freshman candidate of Villa Park, or Dan Little, another freshman from North Judson, Indiana. Infield prospects are unusually bright as the entire infield from last year, composed of Lewis, Vanderbeek, Rezek and Young are all back for competition. Bielawski is the only veteran outfielder to return and the remaining positions are wide open for a large group of hustling candidates.

IN SPRING TRAINING CAMPS

Activities of Major League Teams in the South and West Prior to Opening of Baseball Season

(By The Associated Press)

Baton Rouge, La.—Johnny McCarthy, firmly installed at first base for the New York Giants, is the Giants' leading hitter. He added "three for five" against the Athletics yesterday to boost his average to well above the .500 mark.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Atley Donald, the ex-Newark Bear pitcher who is trying for a place on the New York Yankees' staff, strengthened his bid considerably yesterday against the Boston Bees. Donald yielded five hits in as many innings but only one run.

Lakeland, Fla.—Pat Freddy Fitzsimmons thinks Bill Terry made a mistake when he traded him to the Brooklyn Dodgers. The knuckle-ball master claims he will be able to convince Bill of his mistake when he takes the mound against the Giants in the regular season.

San Antonio, Texas.—The St. Louis Browns weathered a ribbing from Texas League fans yesterday when the fans heard a rumor the Browns had gone "on a perfume buying expedition" at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico. The fans rode the team throughout the game with San Antonio but the Browns beat the Missions, 4 to 0.

Sarasota, Fla.—Refreshed by their first day off in two and a half weeks, the St. Louis Cardinals also faced the Boston Red Sox today.

San Francisco.—Coach Gooch of the Pittsburgh Pirates is predicting young Bobby Klinger will become a regular hurler for the Bucs.

Lakeland, Fla.—The Detroit Tigers aren't worried over tales of Gee Walker's new-found ferocity. Speaking of his ex-teammate, Jo-Jo White says "when did Walker become so rough? He's a rough, fighting ball player, but I never heard of him spiking anybody intentionally or beating anybody up." Walker given support by three experienced men of last season—Marinus Jorgensen of Yorkville; Robert Smith of Eyota, Minnesota; and Robert Evans of Peoria. er was traded by the Tigers to the Chicago White Sox this winter.

New Orleans.—Connie Mack brought his Philadelphia Athletics here today to meet the Cleveland Indians.

Gulfport, Miss.—The Philadelphia Phillies get an opportunity to avenge the shutout defeat suffered at the hands of the Memphis Chickies Tuesday when they square off with the Southern Association team today.

Bradenton, Fla.—Today was a holiday for the Boston Bees.

Sarasota, Fla.—Young Leo Nonnenkamp stands out in a Boston Red Sox camp made pessimistic by two straight defeats. He smashed a home run over the 350-foot right field wall at Sebring yesterday.

New Orleans.—Bob Feller and Johnny Allen, the Cleveland Indians' leading hurlers, will face the Philadelphia Athletics today.

Haines City, Fla.—The Cincinnati Reds are smarting over Larry MacPhail's laughter when Kiki Cuyler smacked two home runs against them for the Dodgers yesterday. The Reds cut Cuyler loose at the end of the 1937 season.

Los Angeles.—Manager Charley Grimm of the Chicago Cubs today named his four starting pitchers for the season—Tex Carleton, Larry French, Bill Lee and Curt Davis.

Pasadena, Calif.—The Chicago White Sox, after dropping five straight games, go back to training camp maneuvers today. The Sox have no exhibition dates to worry them for the next couple of days.

Orlando, Fla.—The Washington Senators haven't been doing so well this spring but Manager Bucky Harris found some encouragement yesterday in Monte Weaver's pitching. Weaver allowed only four hits in his five scoreless innings against Detroit.

New Fish Code

Warden Duis Outlines
Provisions of New Fishing Statute

A number of fishermen in Dixon and along Rock river in Lee county have been undecided about the operation of out-lines this season under the new fish code. Conservation Inspector Charles Duis today informed fishermen that Rock river was included in the list of state fish preserves and therefore use of set or out-line is prohibited. He quoted the following section of the new fish law for the information of the fishermen:

"It shall only be lawful to take fish in a duly established fish preserve by means of a throw line; or by means of a pole or rod and one line, which, for fly casting, may have a leader and dropper fly hook, or for other fishing may have one only baited hook attached to said line, or one only accepted baited hook attached to said line, or one only accepted artificial bait attached to said line."

Attention is also called to the length of fish to be taken under the provisions of the new law and fishermen will do well to provide themselves with a measuring stick. The new code protects even the carp and buffalo and provides for the following length of fish which are native of streams in this vicinity:

Buffalo, not less than 16 inches in length, undressed; Bullheads, eight inches undressed; any species of catfish, (except spoonbill), 13 inches undressed; any species of carp, 16 inches undressed; sheepshead, 12 inches.

The new law provides the season for taking large mouth, small mouth, or Kentucky or southern small mouth black, white or yellow bass with hook and line from June 16 to Feb. 28, both inclusive. Ten of any one of the above species includes a one-day catch. Warmouth bass, crappies, sunfish or blue gills may be taken at any time of the year, with a daily limit of 15; warmouth bass to be not eight inches; sunfish, five inches, less than six inches; crappies, and blue gills, five inches.

May 1 to Feb. 28, is the season for taking wall-eyed pike and pickerel, with a daily limit of ten, pickerel to be 16 inches in length and pike, 12 inches.

CUBS EAGER FOR ACTION FULL OF
FIGHT AND PEPClub In Condition Far
Ahead Of Its Usual
Schedule

Los Angeles, March 24.—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs, to all appearances, have taken a jigger of the old bromide commonly labeled "the fighting spirit" and seem ready to do or die for the home town, P. K. Wrigley and a fat bonus at the end of the 1938 baseball war.

The club reached the mainland from its training camp at Catalina Island in condition far ahead of schedule, and has proceeded to chew all opposition to bits. The Cubs look so good that many experts already have selected limbs to crawl out on to pick them for the top spot in the National league.

Casualties, which wrecked Cub pennant hopes last year, have appeared, but nothing serious.

Rangy Tex Carleton twisted an ankle the first day on the island, and for two weeks it looked like the knob on one of Harry Lauder's canes.

But old Tex stepped out to the mound here without benefit of even an intra-club game and pitched the White Sox into scoreless submission for four innings, allowed only one hit and fanned three.

Bill Lee, the big, ugly one from Louisiana, shapes up as one of the Cubs' best pitching bets. High hopes are pinned on young Clay Bryant, who was used mainly for relief last year.

French in Form

Larry French, the California southpaw, should have another good season, and measures have been taken to correct Leroy Parmelee's wildness.

Charlie Drake, one of the Cub assistants to the assistant assistant, said motion pictures disclosed that Parmelee had developed a little jerk in his wrist, and worse than that—was forgetting to look at the plate just before letting go.

The Cubs have been hitting exceptionally well—even Billy Jurges. Augie Galan, minus a pair of tonsils that helped spoil his 1937 season; Joe Marty, who may emerge as one of the best outfielders in the

EARLY I. Q. NO CUE
Berkeley, Calif. (AP)—Results of intelligence tests in the earliest years of a child's life are little indication of what his adult abilities will be, researchers by Dr. Nancy Bayley Reid of the University of California show.

At seven months, the tests showed, children of intelligent parents are not as smart as those of parents of low mentality, but at three years they have caught up and passed them. Dr. Reid believes this may be because their more complex mentalities need a longer initial development period.

TO USE GALLOPING DRY DOCK
London—(AP)—A "galloping dry dock" has been built to transport on either land or water new flying boats designed for an Atlantic service.

The dock gets its name from the way it performed in a recent test: Diving into the water it picked up a 45-ton load, brought it ashore and ran it about at three miles an hour.

A double row of buoyancy air tanks on either side raises both the dock and its burden after they have established contact in the water.

RICKEY OBJECT OF ATTACK BY JUDGE LANDIS

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 24—(AP)—The citrus circuit wondered today whether Branch Rickey, the "David Harum" of baseball and ad-dict of "gentlemen's agreements," was going to take lying down the whacking around he and the St. Louis Cardinals got from Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis yesterday.

The judge, if you were not listening when he emerged from his hibernation at nearby Belleair yesterday, made free agents out of practically all players on six mid-west clubs, including Cedar Rapids of the Three-Eye league, because he said the Cardinals had been consorting clandestinely with Cedar Rapids for the past two seasons.

Rickey, head of the Cards' farm system, was the principal target. It has been fairly common knowledge for a long time that Landis wanted to "catch" the St. Louis slicker, and the surprise was that he didn't crack down harder when he got the evidence.

As a matter of fact, all the Cards lose are their strings on about 100 young players, most of them of Class D calibre.

The Cards, of course, will have to pay $2.176 in fines imposed on three of their clubs, but that is not enough to bother Rickey. More sympathy was felt for the 17 members of the Monett club of the Arkansas-Missouri league who must find new jobs at this late date. Those declared free agents on the other teams will be permitted to sign back for 1938 if they don't receive better offers.

Twenty-Two Teams In Second Round Catholic Meet

Chicago, March 24—(AP)—Twenty-two teams headed today into the second session of the 15th national Catholic high school basketball tournament.

Three stirring battles marked the opening of the five day event last night. Two favorites, including the defending champion, Fenwick high of Oak Park, Ill., were forced to enact thrilling finishes to win out. Another, St. Bede of Peru, the Illinois state champions, saw its title chances and a 21-game winning streak both snapped at the same time.

Marquette university high of Milwaukee came through with a last half rush to eliminate St. Bede, 34 to 28. St. Xavier of Louisville, Ky., nosed out Central Catholic of Fort Wayne, Ind., 37 to 34, after trailing at one time 28 to 12. Fenwick scored five points in the last minute to turn back St. Thomas Military Academy of St. Paul, Minn., 31 to 28, after the lead in the last half had changed hands 12 times.

Helen Moody Will Return To Courts

San Francisco, March 24—(AP)—Helen Willis Moody looked forward today to a tennis comeback which will carry her through tournaments in England, continental Europe and the United States.

The former many-times American and Wimbledon champion confirmed the announcement by the United States Lawn Tennis Association that she would be a member of the Wightman Cup team, as well as a challenger for the national and all-England crowns.

SHEEP SLAUGHTER

Woodland, Calif.—(AP)—Only a roving band of dogs, killing for the thrill rather than food, could have wreaked such destruction on his sheep, John Van Zee declares. Overnight he found 61 animals killed and 20 others injured.

HILLTOP COACH CHOOSES HIS ALL OPPONENT TEAM

Milwaukee, Wis., March 24—Notre Dame's "wonder five," with which Bill Chandler's Marquette university basketball squad split even this season, earned two first team positions and one second on the all-opponent lineups selected by Chandler and his Hilltop cagers after their arduous 1937-38 campaign.

Two members of the Irish quintet, Johnny Moir, forward, and Paul Nowak, center, were picked unanimously by the Marquette netmen, who assigned the captaincy to Nowak Joe Hagan, Kentucky forward, also was named by every Hilltopper.

There were discrepancies in selecting the all-opponent guards, but Currie of Northwestern and Cosgrove of Butler won out for the first team.

Hod Powell, Wisconsin forward, was named captain of the second team.

The Marquette all-opponent selections follow:

First team:
Moir, (Notre Dame), f.; Hagan, (Kentucky), f.; Nowak, (Notre Dame), c.; Cosgrove, (Butler), g.; Currie, (Northwestern), g.

Second team:
Powell, (Wisconsin), f.; Stephens, (Iowa), f.; Hutt, (Mich. State), c.; Wukovits, (Notre Dame), g.; Cavanaugh, (Canisius), g.

Honorable Mention

Centers—Smith (Northwestern), Lounsbury (Chicago), Dudzick (Canisius) and Peckham (Western State).

Guards—Kinnick (Iowa), Vance (Northwestern), Eggenmeyer (Chicago), Liberti (Niagara), Oppen (Kentucky), Kruse (Columbia) and Brown (Notre Dame).

Day by Day Lessons for Reading During Lenten Season

March 24—Read St. Luke 4:40-43. Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. And demons also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Son of God. . . . And when it was day, he departed and went into a desert place.

This is a lovely and familiar picture, which artists love to paint: the last rays of the setting sun falling on the pitiful throngs of suffering people; the shining figure that moves untiringly among them.

Yet, as always, our Lord's supreme concern is for the soul. He heals the sick because He must; He cannot pass them by. Yet to Him the diseases of the body and the mind are symbolic of a deeper need. "His name shall be called Jesus; for He shall save His people from their sins."

But how? By making Himself wholly one with us; by bearing our infirmities Himself; by making thus a strong link between His heart and ours. That His life may pass to us and make us capable of union with God the source of life.

His love is still as warm and true As when life's common ways He ranged Beneath the Syrian blue.

—John Oxenham.

Bits of Gossip of Sports Picked Up By AP Writer

Pinehurst, N. C., March 24—(AP)—Jack Doyle, the betting commissioner, who lost a fortune betting against Bobby Jones when Bobby was in his heyday, is quoting the Atlanta at 25 to 1 for the approaching masters' tournament at Augusta and betting even money he doesn't finish higher than fifth. . . . Bobby Cruikshank, the Richmond pro, who currently is among the leaders in the north and south here, played yesterday with a borrowed putter. . . . "I'll order a car-load of them," he promised.

Wallace Wade, Duke football coach, is taking in the north and south and shooting a pretty fair game of his own. . . . Another celebrity here is Lew James, first tenor of the famous Revelers radio quartet, who also hits the low 80's in golf every now and then. . . . Jimmy Fox, one of baseball's longest hitters, lost a driving contest to Jimmy Thomson in Sarasota.

BIKE PUMPS ORGAN
IN ENGLISH CHURCH
Benenden, England. — (AP) — Necessity still is the mother of invention.
After having difficulty finding a human being to do the job, the local vicar rigged up an old bicycle to pump the organ.
A driving belt runs from a small electric motor to the back wheel. Then the crankshaft is coupled to the pumping handle of the organ so that with every revolution the handle moves up and down, filling bellows.

GOLDEN RAIN
Oroville, Calif. — (AP) — In this gold country they know what to do after heavy rains such as California has been experiencing. Hunt of streambeds from which the overburden of sand has been washed away has resulted in discovery of a number of gold nuggets. One picked up by J. D. Bragger was valued at $80.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Second, every dollar spent now by the Government will be worth three dollars spent a year hence.

In other words, a $3,000,000,000 spending program now will accomplish what it would require $10,000,000,000 to do next year if business is allowed to sag in the interim.

In private conversations, the President has expressed complete agreement with the Eccles-Douglas-LaFollette viewpoint, though in practice he has followed Morgenthau's previous don't-spend advice.

But now with Morgenthau himself beginning to concede the need of more spending, the Eccles group is hopeful it can persuade Roosevelt to go still further and jack up the new relief budget.

Hoover Loves Wisconsin
President James Bryant Conant of Harvard is the proud owner of a unique set of dishes. Each piece is stamped with the emblem of a prominent university.

The china was used at a dinner which Conant once gave for Herbert Hoover. President Conant laughingly explained to Hoover that the soup bowls bore the Dartmouth insignia, the fish plates the emblem of Yale, and the meat platters the seal of Harvard.

"I trust," added Mr. Hoover,

"that the nuts are served in Wisconsin bowls."

Austrian Minister

For Edgar Prochnik, the Austrian Minister who had to fly the Nazi swastika in front of his Washington Legation when Hitler marched into Austria, the number thirteen was most unlucky.

For Prochnik has been Austrian Minister to the United States for exactly thirteen years — and the thirteenth will be his last.

Although the oldest minister in point of service, except for the Swiss, Prochnik now has the alternative of stooping to the much lower position of counselor of the German Embassy, or going back to Austria to face a regime which he opposes. Without money of his own, Prochnik is in a tough spot.

Returning to Austria, however, is the last thing he wants to do. Ever since he graduated from the Consular School in Vienna in 1904, Prochnik has lived in the United States either as a consul or minister. Twice he has married American wives (Mary Batchelder of Chicago, who died in 1912, and Gretchen Stirling James of Boston). He has four children living in the United States.

So it looks as if Ambassador Dieckhoff of Germany, a kind-hearted person, would try to get Prochnik a retirement pension.

Note—The ex-Austrian Minister is the only member of the Diplomatic Corps who can keep a monocle in place while singing.

Lewis and McNutt

High Commissioner Paul McNutt passed up no bets during his Washington sojourn in laying the groundwork for his 1940 presidential drive.

In addition to his widely publicized grandstand stunts, the statuesque Hoosier also was busy behind the scenes, and among other things, had a secret meeting with CIO boss John L. Lewis. The talk was arranged at McNutt's request by a mutual friend and took place in the Lewis's Alexandria home.

The evening's conversation itself was totally innocuous. At no time was politics or any other controversial subject discussed. The talk centered chiefly about the Far East and the international situation.

But while on the surface nothing of importance transpired, the meeting was not a waste of time for either man. Behind the screen of casual chat they were able to get a close-up of each other and establish a basis for possible future more important conversations. That McNutt definitely has this in mind was guardedly indicated by his parting remark to Lewis:

"I'm returning in the latter part of this year and I'd like to talk to you again."

Note—Lewis was invited to the big reception staged for McNutt, but he got wind that it was secretly planned to photograph him as he greeted McNutt in the receiving line. So the big miner stayed at home.

Merry-Go-Round

The General Accounting Office may claim to be the "Watchdog of the Treasury" but it has nothing on Theodore B. Nickson, Comptroller of the Federal Housing Administration. He is the champion penny-pincher of the Government.

If the bi-monthly salary of an FHA employee comes to a fraction of a cent, he does not get the penny, although that is the general rule in the government service.

ice . . . Senator Burt Wheeler has a clerk on his congressional payroll who spends much of his time writing a column for Montana newspapers. The articles, distributed free, boost Wheeler to the skies and smear Senator Jim Murray and Representative Jerry O'Connell, both Administration supporters . . . Of nearly 3000 city and county jails inspected by Justice Department agents, only ten have received grades above 80 . . . As a result of changes it has made in air routes, the Bureau of Air Commerce has had to discard as useless 20,000 flossy new airway maps it had printed last December. The taxpayer will bear the cost of the "little inadvertence."

Senator Berry

If you want to hear an explosion of free and fancy cussing, mention the name of Senator George ("Marble Quarry") Berry to one of the Administration leaders of the Senate. They are so sure at the beefy, bald-pated Tennesseean they could bite nails.

He was one of the sure votes the New Dealers counted on to help them lick the Wheeler amendment to clip the President's powers under the government reorganization bill. At the height of the bitter fight over this issue, a labor lobbyist asked a friendly Administration Senator to introduce another amendment.

The Administration turned him down on the ground that the struggle over the legislation was so close that the injection of a new controversy might jeopardize the fate of the measure.

The lobbyist then went to Berry, who is head of the Pressmen's Union, and asked him to sponsor the proposal. Berry sought out the Administration leader and asked his advice. The leader strongly counseled against introducing the amendment.

"This fight is too uncertain, George," he explained, "to take any chances. Every new issue gives the opposition a chance to take another crack at the bill."

"I see your point," Berry said, "and you are absolutely right. We can't take any chances. I'd like to do this fellow a favor but I'm too devoted to this legislation to do anything to hurt it. I'll just forget it."

Three days after this ardent avowal of devotion, Berry lined up with the Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats in their unsuccessful attempt to vote the Wheeler rider into the act. (Copyright, 1938, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

EXCAVATORS FIND CHILD

Washington — (AP) — Archeologists of the National Park Service have uncovered an infant burial in excavations at the Chaco canyon national monument in Arizona. The child, wrapped in reed matting, had been buried beneath the first floor of one of the rooms in the ruins. Two half bowls of Mesa Verde ware and numerous squash seeds were placed next to the infant.

FUNGUS DISEASE IN WHITE PINES CAN BE CHECKED

Protective Work On Trees Being Done In Nation's Parks

White pine is considered our most valuable timber and also has an important recreational, scenic and ornamental value. The value of the timber as it stands in the forests is estimated at nearly $420,000,000. In addition there are several million acres of young growth.

White pine will grow into marketable lumber rapidly compared to hardwoods. There is considerable acreage in Illinois that is suitable for the growing of white pine and much of our poorer soils and bare hills would be better planted into white pine and eventually return bigger dividends than anything else that can be grown.

The extension forest service at Urbana and the state forestry department at Springfield are assisting any land owners who are interested in any kind of reforestation.

Blister Rust

Blister rust is a fungus disease that attacks white pine, but it can be easily controlled and the federal department, through its bureau of entomology and plant quarantine in co-operation with the state department of agriculture is giving that protection to white pines in all of the states where it is grown.

The protective control work has been done or is being done in federal, state and county forest preserves, city parks, nurseries and on private property wherever white pine is of any importance and the owners want it protected.

Miscellaneous publications numbers 22 and 27 contain valuable information and can be secured by writing to the United States department of agriculture, bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, or to Ernest D. Bergeson, state leader, blister rust control, care of H. F. Seifert, chief plant inspector, room 300 State Bank building, Glen Ellyn, Ill.
